2017 State of the City Address in Review

A Cherished Past, A Golden Future

Our 2017 State of the City Address, held January 23, drew a large crowd eager to enjoy an evening that blended old favorites with new elements. First, our thanks to the UA civic groups and City departments that brought the Community Fair to life, providing excellent networking opportunities for attendees.

With the theme “A Cherished Past, A Golden Future,” attendees were given an overview of the City’s strong financial position, recent economic development accomplishments, as well as a progress report on critical reinvestment in our community’s infrastructure.

Our ever popular Community Awards Program celebrated the following worthy 2016 recipients:

Business of the Year

- OSU Wexner Medical Center. OSU’s Wexner Medical Center is one of the newest businesses in UA, with its 104,000 square foot offices at Kingsdale. The facility provides numerous key health services including behavioral health, women’s health, family medical and laboratory services. The significant investment by OSU as well as the numerous jobs that the facility represents for UA mark 2016 as the beginning of a strong relationship between the Wexner Center and the community.

Community Enrichment

- Northwest Kiwanis. The Northwest Kiwanis Club has a long history of service and commitment to UA through participation in numerous volunteer projects. Most recently, the club dedicated several days to the Northwest Kiwanis Park to replace the lumber and hardware on old picnic tables. In past years, the club helped fund the City’s purchase of the park that bears their name, spent days of volunteer time removing invasive honeysuckle from City parks, constructed the shelter house and restroom facilities at Northwest Kiwanis Park, helped fund the construction of the Amelia Mirolo Barn in Sunny 95 Park. The club also routinely sponsors a large recreational soccer program for area kids.

Community Safety

- Syntero/UA Schools In-Schools Collaboration. Syntero and UA Schools are involved in a high priority collaborative effort to provide behavioral health support and prevention services and activities in all UA schools. This program provides consultation for students experiencing interpersonal difficulties and provides detailed recommendations to students, parents and school staff to help resolve problems.

Super Senior

- John Easton. John is a champion of beautification programs in UA. He served on the UA Community Foundation and encouraged the board to offer its support to City beautification efforts, which continues to this day. Additionally, he has organized A sneak peek of the UA High School Vocal Music’s production of “The Wizard of Oz” brought a great energy to the start of the presentation.

residents and directed them through several group sponsorship beautification programs including the neighborhood island at Sandover Rd. and Clarion Ct. Recently, John worked as a sponsor to plan and fund the creation of the new butterfly garden at Westover Park to not only beautify the area, but also educate children about the life of these beautiful creatures.

Youth – BEARS Group – Hastings MS. BEARS, or Bringing Empathy, Acceptance, and Respect Schoolwide, is a group formed by students at Hastings Middle School to help students feel safe and engaged at school. The group meets during students’ lunch hours and over the summer to plan events and activities including creating staff meeting presentations, visiting elementary schools to discuss the importance of kindness, school-wide team building days and monthly in-class activities. Additionally, the BEARS students have written grant letters to purchase supplies, brought in nationally known speakers on bullying and invited OSU athletes to talk about the importance of teamwork.

Building Blocks

The strong reinvestment trends that have been evident for a number of years continue to reach all time highs. In 2015, we experienced an incredible $95 million in permitted construction value. The final tally for 2016 jumped by another $16 million to a grand total of $111.6 million for the year.

A lot of the commercial reinvestment has been focused along Lane Avenue. As a prominent commercial corridor with direct access to SR 315 and OSU, this area is attractive to developers looking to capitalize on UA’s demographics and excellent location.

The potential exists for additional redevelopment within this district, with several sites at differing stages of exploration and/or planning. The seven-story Arlington Gateway Project has received approval, pending the resolution of two variances and a number of conditions that must be met by April 8 in order for the project’s approval to be upheld. And Staff recently heard of plans for a new redevelopment at the northwest corner of Lane Avenue and Northwest Boulevard, to include a Heartland Bank.

On February 6, the Board of Zoning and Planning (BZAP) had an informal discussion on a proposed project by J.Liu for a six-story redevelopment at 1640 W. Lane Avenue—the northeast corner of Lane Avenue & Westmont Boulevard, adjacent to The Lane mixed-use project. It includes two ground floor restaurants, with a five-story Home2 Suites by Hilton hotel with 118 rooms located above. Surface parking and a two-story parking garage are proposed north of the building, providing 160 on-site parking spaces. The proposed development would require the rezoning of five residential properties along Westmont Boulevard to a planned mixed-use designation.

In a report to BZAP, Planning Staff cited a number of items associated with the proposal that would require resolution in order to meet the City’s zoning and design standards within the Lane Avenue Mixed-Use Planning District (PMUD). This includes recommended changes to the materials used on the exterior, addressing height allowances, and a need for an expanded landscaping buffer at the rear of the site. The report also highlighted the need for a traffic study and a better understanding of the parking needs that would be generated by a project of this size and nature.

Formal applications are anticipated in advance of additional public hearings in the spring. BZAP will review the merits of the development plan application, and then vote to approve or deny the request. The Board will also make a recommendation to City Council concerning the rezoning component. It is up to City Council to approve or deny the rezoning application.

2017 Wall of Honor to Induct John Austin Dunkel

The City and the Upper Arlington Historical Society are pleased to announce that John Austin Dunkel has been selected for induction into the Wall of Honor. He dedicated a substantial part of his working life to the community he loved. A practicing attorney who rose through the ranks to become a senior attorney at Porter Wright Morris & Arther, LLP, Mr. Dunkel was best known locally for his time serving as Mayor and a member of City Council during the 1960s. He took it upon himself to challenge the Ohio State Legislature relative to a decades-old law regarding the governance of Ohio libraries. With the law overturned, his accomplishment set the stage for Upper Arlington to become independent of the Grandview Library and to establish its own library system. A ceremony in Mr. Dunkel’s honor will be held Sunday, May 21 beginning at 3 p.m., at 3600 Tremont Road.
The 2017 road construction season will be another busy one, as our Engineering Division takes steps to reduce the backlog of necessary work as part of our 10-year Capital Improvement Program. Read on for a summary of what to expect.

Council Supports Sidewalk Additions Within 2017 CIP
The City’s fiscal picture is drastically different today from what it was just five years ago. This trend to the positive has allowed the City to tackle capital projects at an unprecedented rate. As we enter our fourth year of an expanded 10-year Capital Improvement Program, the list of construction projects planned was already impressive, but with a strong fund balance on hand Council has directed our Engineering Division to go one step further.

The result is the addition of the 2017 Sidewalk Connection Project, which aims to promote pedestrian connectivity in areas identified by the Safe Routes to School Travel Plan and to target community requests to fill in gaps in our sidewalk infrastructure. It includes new sidewalk on one side of the street in the following areas:
• Canterbury Road from Riverside Drive to Tremont Road
• Cambridge Boulevard from Riverside Drive to Tremont Road

The Engineering Division invites residents to an informational meeting on this project on Thursday, March 9, 2017 from 6-8 p.m. at 3600 Tremont Road. Staff will have the proposed sidewalk exhibits and be able to answer any questions you may have about this project.

To see what is proposed, visit www.uaoh.net/sidewalkoptions.
If you have questions, contact the Engineering Division at 614-583-5360 or send an email to the project’s field engineer, Roberta Barkhimer, at rbarkhimer@uaoh.net.

If you’ve been following some of the issues facing the City in recent years, you will know we have been reviewing our options for 911/dispatching for approximately six years. Changes of any significance to a critical service such as this must certainly merit the time and attention that has been put into this complex issue. When I look at how extensively the dispatching landscape has changed since we started this process, I am confident it has been time well spent.

At the close of 2016 it was brought to my attention that the time was upon us for determining our next steps and beginning along that path. In December I received communication from Police Chief Tracy Hahn and Interim Fire Chief Mark Zambito summarizing their concerns and recommendations. They stated to me in no uncertain terms their belief that this is the most important issue currently facing their respective divisions.

In this letter, challenges of staffing the UA dispatching center under a climate of uncertainty, changes in regulations for dispatching centers, Upper Arlington’s inability to directly receive cellular 911 calls and the rapid technological advances that are requiring centers to adapt at an equal pace were cited as factors driving their belief that Upper Arlington should no longer run its own dispatching center.

They further went on to state that of the two best options for consolidation with another agency, they are confident it is in our best interests to partner with the City of Dublin, the lead agency of the Northwest Regional Emergency Communications Center (NRECC). The reasons cited included:

- The service provided by Dublin dispatchers is very similar in nature to that provided in-house. Emergency and non-emergency calls would all be connected with a live dispatcher.
- Dublin is able to provide a dispatching console dedicated to Upper Arlington Police, and the Fire consoles would have additional staffing during peak times to accommodate our needs.
- Dublin has already successfully assumed dispatching operations for the City of Hilliard Police and Norwich Township Fire. Conversations with safety directors at these organizations confirm the level of service provided by Dublin is exceptional and would meet our expectations.
- Many members of staff and interested members of Council were afforded the opportunity to visit the Dublin communications center, seeing first-hand how comparable the human experience would be and the advancements in dispatching technology that would enhance the overall service.
- Dublin can provide the records processing and maintenance requirements associated with dispatching and emergency response, which translates to the UA Police Division requiring fewer in-house resources.

In response to their recommendation, this issue became a top priority during the first part of this year. This included an extensive schedule of community outreach and engagement:

- Presentations and discussions at the January 17, February 6 and 13 Council meetings;
- A January 31 Public Meeting with presentations from our safety chiefs, insight on NRECC from Director Jay Somerville and representatives of NRECC’s partners from Hilliard Police and Norwich Township Fire;
- A series of Coffees with the Safety Chiefs, held January 24, 28, February 2 and 3 at various community locations;
- A Telephone Town Hall on February 8, with more than 300 residents listening in to a radio talk-show style discussion that included live questions from residents;
- Presentations to various civic groups such as the Upper Arlington Rotary, the Citizen Police Academy Alumni group and Northwest Kiwanis;
- An extensive series of social media posts and video updates.

This effort helped many residents learn more about the issue and the factors driving our recommended move to a consolidation with Dublin. And it provided Council with the insight it needed to reach a consensus on the best way forward, with a unanimous vote February 13 on a Motion directing me to consolidate our 911/dispatching services with Dublin.

The work to bring this consolidation to fruition is now proceeding in earnest. We anticipate the transition will take place over the course of 2017, allowing Dublin to hire, train and familiarize dispatchers with our community, and for the many technological changes to be implemented and extensively tested before going live.

We can all be very proud of the exceptional safety services we enjoy in UA and we want to be sure that our Police, Fire and EMS emergency responders have all the tools they need to maintain the high standards that have been set over the years. In order to do that, we are confident this consolidation with Dublin will ensure that our 911/dispatching services stay apace with the changing landscape within which they must operate.

Full details of this issue can be found at www.uaoh.net/911, where we will post updates on the progress of the transition.

Change Your Clock, Change Your Battery®
Sunday, March 12
To kick off Daylight Savings Time, clocks “spring forward” at 2 a.m. Sunday morning. The Fire Division reminds you this is a good time to change the batteries in your home’s smoke alarms. To stay safe, replacing batteries in all smoke alarms should be done at least once a year. In addition, smoke alarms should be tested once a month and if an alarm chirps, warning the battery is low, replace the battery right away.

Fire Hydrant Flushing
April 17-28
FIRE DIVISION  614-583-5100
Fire hydrant flushing will occur weekdays from April 17-28, between the hours of 8 a.m.–6 p.m. This annual test is part of a fire hydrant maintenance program that keeps hydrants in operable condition and identifies any deficiencies that require repair. Notice of the areas to be flushed on a given day are provided at the beginning of the day in the following ways:
• Signs reading “Hydrant Flushing Today” are placed at prominent intersections in each area before flushing starts, and removed when completed for the day.
• You can call 614-583-5115 to get information on the areas being flushed that day.

Residents are notified via email, text or voicemail using the ALERT Franklin County notification system, at the beginning of the program.
• The City’s website features a page under the “Headlines” section with daily updates about areas being flushed.
• Daily reminders are shared on the City’s Facebook and Twitter pages.

Most residents will notice no difference in their water supply, but a few could experience water discoloration after flushing has taken place in their area. Please refrain from doing laundry on the day hydrants are flushed in your area. Before resuming laundering, partially fill washers until the water runs clear. Run a sample of water into a transparent container to check for settling or discoloration. Once the water is clear, the washer can be spun out to drain the tub for a normal laundry load. Turn on all faucets and allow water to run until it appears clear. Some may experience staining of clothes despite these notices. Clothes should be kept damp or wet to prevent the stains from setting. “Rust-removers” or “rust fighters” are carried among cleaning products at grocery and hardware stores.

Upper Arlington Schools students, parents and staff celebrated the district as a leader in education in central Ohio and beyond at the third-annual State of the Schools.

After a performance by the Windermere Ukulele Orchestra to open the evening, Board of Education President Robin Comfort welcomed the hundreds of community members who gathered at Upper Arlington High School on January 30. She introduced Superintendent Paul Imhoff to share updates on the goals in the district’s strategic plan.

“The most important thing happening in our district yesterday, today and tomorrow is what happens in our classrooms each and every day,” Imhoff said.

Transforming the classroom experience for students of today and the future is the goal of a new program at the high school, the Research & Design Lab.

“Our district has a history of being a state and a national leader in education,” Imhoff said. “We also have a history of being a center of innovation.”

The lab, Instructional Leader Laura Moore said in a video shown during Imhoff’s presentation, is “a conceptual space” to promote the development of innovative ideas in education through a collaborative effort of staff, students and community members.

This program was made possible through an anonymous $100,000 donation to the Upper Arlington Education Foundation.

“This is a very special community, and one of the things that is special about it is the amazing work the Upper Arlington Education Foundation does for our schools,” Imhoff said. “What we do would not be possible without them.”

Moving from the district’s performance goal to the personalization goal, Imhoff shared video testimonials from students and teachers about the district-wide one-to-one technology program, the first for K-12 in Central Ohio.

“It’s great to be first because we believe that’s what’s best for our students,” he said. “But it’s not about the technology. It’s a tool in the hands of amazing students and amazing teachers that really allows for more personalization of learning.”

The program, which was implemented at the secondary level in December 2015 and at the elementary level at the start of the current school year, is already changing the classroom experience for students in incredible ways, secondary and elementary teachers shared in the video.

The implementation of the program was funded through a reallocation of resources.

On the district’s efficiency goal, Treasurer/CFO Andrew Geistfeld noted examples of how the district has honored its commitments to the community — including that the district not return to the ballot for operating funding for four years.

“I’m proud to say, through the financial decisions of the board, that we’re right where we thought we’d be four years ago,” Geistfeld said. “And we’ve kept that promise of not coming back to you, the community, for four years.”

The district has also exceeded its commitment to improve its bottom line by $4.5 million by the summer of 2017, he said. As of October 2016, $4.7 million in efficiency measures have been enacted without having a negative impact on the student experience.

Members of the Windermere Elementary Ukulele Orchestra kicked off the evening with a performance in the High School’s Learning Center. continues on page 16
We Still Need to Hear Your Voice in Final Phase of Master Planning

Now that the Board of Education has approved a master plan for our aging schools, we have reached a major milestone in our two-year, three-phase facilities master planning process. But we still have several months to go, and we hope every Upper Arlington resident will get involved in this very important final phase.

The master plan outlines the preferred way to address the growing needs at each school over time: rebuild the high school, renovate or rebuild the five elementary schools and repair the two middle schools as well as Burbank Early Childhood School.

The master plan represents more than just the steps needed in the next 10 to 15 years to ensure our buildings can support our students’ educational needs for decades to come. It is the result of an amazing collaborative effort by hundreds of community members and staff during the past two years. Together, these volunteers analyzed assessments of our schools’ physical and educational needs; they investigated options for repairing, renovating or rebuilding the schools; and they encouraged thousands of other residents to share their thoughts on that work.

Now in the final phase of this planning process, the decisions phase, the collaborative effort is continuing. The Financial Advisory Board, a new team of community volunteers with significant experience in financial management and the management of considerable facilities and construction work, is reviewing the scope of the master plan, options for funding and phasing the master plan as well as the district’s needs for a future operating levy.

We will share the team’s initial findings on all of these issues in early March and spend March and April collecting as much community feedback as possible. We need to hear your voice. I hope you will take the time to attend a building team meeting, one of our community meetings or participate in an online survey.

In late April, the Financial Advisory Board will come back together to review all these points of community feedback and then draft a final briefing paper for Treasurer Andrew Geistfeld. After reviewing the team’s work, Andy will make a recommendation to the Board of Education on the funding, phasing and scope of the master plan and the district’s operating levy needs. The board is expected to take action soon after, and UA residents will likely see a combined operating levy and bond issue on the ballot in November 2017.

We’ll be reaching out to the community through the local newspaper, mailers, Facebook, Twitter and our website about the upcoming feedback opportunities. In the meantime, another great way to get involved is to attend or host a coffee chat. These informal meetings take place in an Upper Arlington home and usually involve a group of 10 to 20 neighbors and friends. Chris Potts, the district’s chief operating officer, and I share a brief update on our schools and the planning process before taking questions and collecting ideas and feedback from the group.

Please take the time to get involved in this historic, collaborative effort in our community. To learn more, please visit www.uaschools.org/facilities. To ask a question or host a coffee chat, please email me at superintendent@uaschools.org or call 614-487-5030.

The Windermere Elementary Library has been awarded a $4,000 James Patterson “Save School Libraries” grant that the school will use to support its one-to-one technology initiative.

Simple robotics such as Sphero and digital learning materials will be purchased with the grant, which stems from the best-selling author’s efforts to support school libraries for generations to come.

With these new learning tools, “We hope to provide K-5 students a foundation in computer science and help further develop problem-solving skills,” Windermere Media Specialist Shannon Hemmelgarn said.

Painting Pays Tribute to Work for South Sudan

Former students, staff members, community members and stakeholders gathered at Upper Arlington High School for the unveiling of a painting representing the partnership between the school and the Buckeye Medical Clinic of South Sudan.

Bol Aweng, a “lost boy of South Sudan,” spoke of the significant impact UAHS students have had on his native village of Piol.

Through the Strides for South Sudan service-learning program, students at UAHS have raised more than $56,000 since 2009 for the clinic, which serves women and children.

The painting by Aweng can be seen outside the attendance office.

Since the facilities master planning process for Upper Arlington’s schools began more than two years ago, we have had hundreds of community volunteers take part in our Facilities Task Force and our building teams and thousands attend coffee chats or take part in community meetings and surveys.

As we enter the final phase of the process, a new team of volunteers has joined us in our journey. This group, called the Financial Advisory Board, is charged with reviewing the district’s needs for an operating levy as well as the funding, phasing and scope of the master plan.

The members of the Financial Advisory Board are:

- Bill Brennan, executive vice president and chief financial officer, The Pizzuti Companies
- Kris Devine, deputy chief financial officer, The Ohio State University
- Ryan Gilmore, chief financial officer, Overmyer Hall Associates
- Lisa Ingram, president and chief executive officer, White Castle Management Company
- Brian Jepson, president, OhioHealth Riverside Methodist Hospital
- Andy Livingston, executive vice president, Huntington National Bank
- Mike Schoedinger, president, Schoedinger Funeral Homes
- Elizabeth Seely, executive director, Ohio State University Hospital East

These volunteers have embraced their charge and will be sharing their initial findings with the community in March and April. Be sure to share your feedback on those findings through one of our community meetings, coffee chats or surveys. Watch your mailbox or visit www.uaschools.org/facilities for more information. If you have any questions, please contact me at 614-487-5000 or treasurer@uaschools.org.

Donations Will Help Create Much-Needed Group Study Space

Since our beginning nearly 50 years ago, residents from all walks of life have relied on the Upper Arlington Public Library as a place to explore, gather and grow. From providing popular software to delivering to the homebound to offering the newest media formats, we’ve always recognized the importance of adapting to meet the changing needs of the community.

Today we are frequently asked to provide more group work and study space. Therefore, the focus of our fundraising this year is on obtaining private donations for the creation of areas where students, families, professionals and community organizations can work together.

As responsible stewards of the public’s dollars, we continue to watch our operating expenses and cut costs whenever we can. Thanks to the passage of our operating levy last fall, we’re able to provide essential services to our community, but we must rely on private donations for larger projects.

I’d like to extend sincere thanks to all those who made a donation during Library Lovers’ Month. Your generosity has started us on the path to achieving our goal of providing an even better customer experience.

We ask all Upper Arlington residents and library users to consider adding their support to the cause. Late this spring we will kick off a campaign in celebration of our 50th year as an independent library system. A group of library staff is already planning special displays and activities commemorating this milestone. Included in the celebration will be several opportunities to help our fundraising efforts: event tickets and sponsorships, naming rights and plaque placements, and direct donations. Look for more information in Library Insight and on our website later this year.

Youth Department Offers Summer Volunteer Program

All three UA Libraries are seeking teen volunteers for this year’s “Build A Better World” Summer Library Club. Volunteering is a great way to gain experience, meet friends, earn service credit, and get a glimpse at the behind-the-scenes world of the Library. Several previous interns and volunteers have enjoyed the experience so much that they returned the following year. Our Main Library is seeking up to five high school interns and 50–60 junior volunteers. Our Lane Road Library is seeking up to two high school interns along with 25–30 volunteers, and our Miller Park Library is seeking 25–30 junior volunteers.

Interns
Teens entering grades 10-12 or who graduate high school in 2017 are eligible to be an intern. The positions involve a commitment of 8–10 hours per week from the end of school to July 30, 2017. Applicants will be required to write an essay and be interviewed. Those chosen will gain valuable leadership and career skills by training junior volunteers, assisting with programming and collection needs, and other duties as assigned. Internships are unpaid but selected students will receive recognition, letters of recommendation and service hour credit for their participation. High school intern applications are available Saturday, April 1 and are due Monday, May 1.

Junior Volunteers
Students in grades 7–12 wishing to help register and award prizes at our summer reading table are encouraged to apply for a Junior Volunteer Position. Applications for Junior Volunteers will be available Saturday, April 1 and are due Monday, May 1.

Book Buddies
Back by popular demand, all three locations of the Upper Arlington Public Library will also be seeking teens to help with our Book Buddies Program. Teens entering grades 6–12 are paired with a younger student and act as their “coach.” Applications for Book Buddies will be available Monday, May 1 and due back on May 31, 2017.

Applications for all of these positions will be available on the dates noted above at all three of our locations and on our website. Completed applications can be dropped off at the preferred volunteer location.

Behold the Dreamers
By Imbolo Mbue
This was my favorite book of 2016. The story centers on Jende and Neni, a couple from Cameroon, who immigrate to New York City in search of a better life for themselves and their young son in 2007. They land jobs working for a Lehman Brothers executive and his family. With the financial collapse of 2008, the family they work for can no longer employ them, and their quest to keep working and become citizens is in jeopardy. Each character has to make decisions, even ones they never thought they’d be making. This is the author’s first novel and I enjoyed the depth of character development and the hope throughout the book, even when times are very tough.
— Pam Cole, Lane Road Library

Not Dead Yet
By Phil Collins
Phil Collins went from child actor to gig drummer to member of the progressive band Genesis and solo superstar. He is one of only three recording artists who have sold over 100 million records both as solo artists and as a band. But this massive success came at a price: three broken families, and ultimately a serious drinking problem that nearly killed him. Not Dead Yet is full of stories about life on the road, his relationships with Peter Gabriel and Eric Clapton, and his struggle with sobriety at age 55. Whether you’re interested in rock history and memoirs, or you just want to know the meaning of Sussudio, check out this book.
— Christine Minx, Marketing and Community Relations

The Dry
By Jane Harper
A financial investigator with Australia’s Federal Police returns to his hometown for the funeral of his childhood best friend, who is suspected of murdering his entire family. Old secrets and grudges soon resurface, building to a final, explosive confrontation.
— Caitlin O’Sullivan, Adult Services

The Hundred Lies of Lizzie Lovett
By Chelsea Sedoti
This is an easy-to-read YA book about the main character’s obsession with finding out what happened to Lizzie Lovett, a young woman who went missing while on a camping trip with her boyfriend. Hawthorne quickly settles on a theory involving Lizzie having turned into a werewolf. As the mystery unfolds, Hawthorne’s relationships with her brother, Lizzie’s boyfriend, and a group of hippies that are camped out in Hawthorne’s backyard create a sweet and fascinating story. I found myself identifying with so many of Hawthorne’s angst-filled moments. That character’s sense of humor and certainty that her theory is the truth, make her a fun character to read.
— Kate Albers, Miller Park Library

Victoria
By Daisy Goodwin
Princess Victoria led a sheltered existence and was ill-equipped to become the Queen of England at 18 years old. The gap in her education meant that she leaned heavily on the charming Prime Minister Lord Melbourne for guidance. She found Lord Melbourne so appealing she wondered if the relationship might lead to something more. Meanwhile, other suitors were hoping to gain her attention including her own cousin, Prince Albert. Fans of historical fiction should enjoy this absorbing read!
— Kris Stahler, Miller Park Library

A Man Called Ove
By Fredrik Backman
This is the most heartwarming novel that I’ve read in a long while. Ove is a grumpy curmudgeon that is set in his ways and has not adapted to the ways of the modern world. A young family moves into the house next door who appears unbothered by Ove’s terse, rigid, and unfriendly ways. As they continue to push his boundaries, a wonderful relationship develops. This is a story that will make you smile.
— Jennifer Faure, Marketing and Community Relations
