For much of 2024, the City will be focusing on its northern edge, as it works to develop its “Envision Henderson” West Henderson Road Vision Plan. This study is the next logical step for the corridor, following recent zoning updates within the office district centered around Arlington Centre Boulevard, a process that was finalized at the close of 2022.

MKSK, a local community planning and urban design firm, is heading up the process on behalf of the City, with support from Burgess & Niple, Jones Architectural Studio, and Toole Design. The study area will run from Stonehaven Drive/Chevy Chase Court on the west, to Reed Road on the east. The planning process will include an evaluation of prior studies and plans for the corridor, a review of existing regulations, meaningful public involvement to gather community input about the corridor, consideration of prospective regulations for future redevelopment opportunities, and an exploration of complete streetscape concepts to safely accommodate all users. The final plan will highlight an aspirational, yet achievable vision for the corridor that will be supported by policy recommendations, recommended roadway and streetscape improvements, potential site concepts, and guidance for funding and implementation.

Why the Study is Happening

The Henderson Road commercial corridor is important to the City for several reasons.

The Central Ohio region is growing rapidly, and every community - Upper Arlington included - is feeling the impacts and pressures of this change. How communities prepare will be key to their longterm health, identity and vibrancy.

West Henderson Road is the last major business district within the City with the potential for significant change, similar to what has been occurring along Lane Avenue and at Kingsdale.

However, unlike Lane Avenue and Kingsdale, a combination of factors make the district a more complex proposition for prospective developers, with no significant projects emerging to date under the City’s existing Planned Mixed-Use District framework:

- Henderson Road serves as the boundary between Upper Arlington and the City of Columbus. With multiple property owners, and different zoning and design standards for each jurisdiction, the resulting developments over the years have created an inconsistent look and feel.
- The district is located at the northern edge of the community and lacks a defined sense of place within UA.
- The current roadway configuration does not reflect contemporary safety, access, streetscape and aesthetic expectations, and lacks the walkable feel of the adjacent neighborhoods.

- The retail environment is very competitive and some areas along the corridor are outdated.

As a result, the district is aging and at risk of decline or inconsequential reinvestment on a parcel by parcel basis – a future that fails to solve some of the big picture issues that could ultimately transform this district into a vibrant community gateway that features new housing options, businesses and amenities, within an attractive, accessible environment.

Study Goals
The study will set out to:

- Facilitate a consistent, safe, and attractive corridor.
- Add community value by creating a welcoming, open corridor.
- Maximize economic development opportunities.
- Enhance the vibrancy and walkability of the corridor.
- Identify opportunities for additional housing.
- Define a transitional edge to Upper Arlington.

Community Engagement Opportunities
Throughout the study process, a series of community engagement opportunities will be provided, so that residents and businesses within the district, as well as our neighbors to the immediate north in Columbus, have an opportunity to share their ideas and concerns, and provide feedback as the visioning plan is developed.

Spring Activities
As part of the initial fact-finding process, starting in early March the planning team will conduct its first round of community engagement. This will include a series of stakeholder interviews and focus groups with community leaders, major property owners, business owners, area residents and employees within the district, as well as City of Columbus and Northwest Civic Association representatives.

The first of three community meetings will also be held at this time.

Construction Updates
Our Engineering Division has lined up another busy season of construction projects or UA. For the latest updates on Fishinger Road, street reconstruction and maintenance projects, waterline replacements, sidewalk repairs and more, use the QR code to access our construction webpage and “storymap,” which includes real time project updates.

Northam Park Improvements
Work has begun for the next phase of improvements at Northam Park, which include a new service building, nine new clay tennis courts, six new pickleball courts, additional shade/shelter structures, and expanded green space surrounding the project area. Replacement of the service building and construction of the new pickleball courts has already begun and will continue throughout the summer. Work on the tennis courts will begin in August, following an abridged Northam Tennis season. Full details of this project can be found on the Parks & Rec section of our website, at upperarlingtonoh.gov.
Bob Crane Community Center Updates

Construction progress at the Bob Crane Community Center reached a milestone moment on February 12, as the final structural beam was lifted into place. To celebrate, representatives from the design and construction team of MSA Sport, Elford Construction, Continental Building Company and The Pizzuti Companies, joined with members of City Council, the Upper Arlington Community Foundation, and the City Administration for a Topping Out Ceremony.

With the building’s structure in place, construction will be transitioning to installation of the exterior facade, plus excavation for the pool, with the building “dried in” by mid-April. Work to install the interior finishes will begin by mid-May, and Council is expected to review contracts for furnishings and fittings in late May. The project’s progress remains on schedule, and a Spring 2025 grand opening will be here before we know it.

Parking Update
In February, City Council approved a contract with Elford, Inc. for the construction of a parking deck at the north end of the Giant Eagle parking lot. Scheduled to begin in April with completion by late fall 2024, this project will provide a total of 310 parking spaces on two levels, bringing the total amount of available parking within the Kingsdale Mixed-Use Project to more than 900 spaces, with the following breakdown of space availability:

- 586 spaces within the adjacent apartment building. This includes 37 limited mobility spaces and 12 ADA spaces.
- 17 spaces in the courtyard between The Coventry Senior Living building and the Community Center. This includes six ADA spaces.
- 31 parallel spaces surrounding the Community Center, including nine limited mobility spaces.
- 310 spaces in the parking deck, including eight ADA spaces.

This significantly exceeds parking standards for a development project of this size, and will provide a welcome buffer during peak usage of the Kingsdale area.

Focus Group Discussions
UA Parks & Rec is in the midst of hosting a series of focus groups with residents, to help guide programming and operations. The focus groups are expected to run through the spring, with topics including adaptive recreation needs, aquatics, arts, music & dance, education & enrichment, fitness & wellness, sports, teens, businesses, and overarching operations.

Watch for a report out on the findings and next steps as these discussions conclude.

City Boards & Commissions
Application Deadline: April 30
The City is fortunate to have many residents who are willing to donate their time and expertise serving on the various Boards and Commissions that have been formed to address specific community issues. In return, these individuals are afforded the opportunity to help shape their community in areas that are of interest to them.

Several seats on various Boards and Commissions will be expiring on June 30, and City Council is currently seeking applications from residents who are interested in serving.

Visit http://onboard.upperarlingtonoh.gov to access our Board and Commission portal, to learn more about each Board and Commission, opportunities to serve, and to complete an application. While the call for applications for the upcoming transition in terms runs from March 1-April 30, recent applicants will also be considered as part of the selection process. Council will finalize new and renewing appointments by mid-June.

If you have any questions about the Board and Commission selection process, please contact the City Clerk’s Office, at city.council@uaoh.net.

Thompson Park Playground Update
As part of Parks & Recreation’s 2024 Capital Improvement Program, the playground at Thompson Park is scheduled for replacement. Thanks to more than 700 points of feedback from residents throughout the design process, the resulting playground will provide kids with the play elements they enjoy, such as rope bridges, climbing play and spinners. The design is also responsive to a desire for shade and retaining as many existing trees as possible, and is designed to provide space for a nature play area, to be installed at a future date.

The new playground will be installed this Spring, in time for this year’s Summer Camp programming.

If you have questions about this improvement project, contact UA Parks & Rec, at 614-583-5300 or parks@uaoh.net.
City's Curbside Food Waste Collection Program Expands

Public Service .................................................. 614-583-5350

The City is proud to offer one of the only municipal curbside food waste collection programs in Central Ohio. After successful completion of the curbside pilot program, we are expanding services to more residents! The program is still offered on a first-come, first-served basis but all residents are encouraged to apply, and over the coming months, we will add new participants to the program.

If you are interested in participating, use the QR code to learn more and to register. For questions about the program, please email us, at foodwaste@uaoh.net.

WHY IT’S IMPORTANT

Nationally, approximately 40% of all food produced goes to waste, which means the nutrients in the food never return to the soil. In Franklin County, nearly 1 million pounds of food waste is sent to the landfill every day. Wasted food in the landfill rots, producing methane gas, and the EPA estimates that wasted food is responsible for 58% of landfill methane emissions to the atmosphere. Composting food waste creates a nutrient-rich product that can be used to help improve soil, grow crops, and improve water quality.

Solid Waste Reminders

Solid Waste .................................................. 614-583-5350

Please take a few moments to familiarize yourself with various solid waste requirements, so that you are doing your part to ensure the program’s ongoing success.

Screening Requirements - Households should keep trash and recycling containers out of view from the street, except when putting them at the curb before collection day. Options are to store the containers in an enclosed structure, such as your garage or shed. If that is not possible, containers should be stored to the side or rear of the residence and screened from street view. This can be accomplished with a natural landscaped barrier or with fencing that is a minimum of 42 inches in height. Full details of this requirement can be found within §7.15(A)4 of the UDO.

When to Put Containers at the Curb - In an effort to preserve community aesthetics, the City restricts the length of time that trash and recycling containers can be at the curb in advance of and following your collection day. Per UA Streets and Services Code §935.02, containers or materials for collection should not be placed at the curb any earlier than 6 pm of the day preceding collection day but must be out ready for collection by no later than 7 am of collection day. Following collection, containers must be removed from the curb and returned to their regular storage location by 7 am of the next day.

Correct Placement of Containers - For ease of access, trash and recycling containers should be placed at least three feet apart from other items, and away from parked cars, so that crews have unobstructed access. Place containers with the lid openings facing into the street.

Tragically, substance abuse, drug addiction, and the drug overdose epidemic continue to worsen in our nation. No community is immune from the devastating impacts on families, and, sadly, I suspect that most of us know someone who has lost a family member to an overdose, or someone struggling with addiction. It touches all our lives.

Addressing this epidemic is a daunting prospect but we can’t let that stop us from trying, and grassroots, community-based programming is a critical part of the puzzle. Thanks to entities such as The Stand Project, UA CARES and the efforts of our Police Division, there are many opportunities for us all to become informed and equipped to tackle this issue head on.

Some of the opportunities on the horizon this spring include:

UA Historical Society’s UA Quest
From March 2-10, registered teams earn points for solving clues, answering bonus questions and taking group photos at the clue’s destination. Every point earned is a raffle entry to win UA-centric prizes, including summer one-day pool passes, Golden Bear Scare fast passes, restaurant gift cards and more. This winter, Upper Arlington Schools launched an ambitious strategic planning process that draws from the innovative and collaborative vision of students, staff, parents/guardians and community members for the future of education in Upper Arlington.

“This is an incredibly exciting moment for our district and community as we continue the conversations we have been having to shape the future of education in Upper Arlington,” Superintendent Robert Hunt, Ph.D. shared. “By relying on all of the information we have gathered over the past year and a half, we will ensure that our strategic plan is well-informed and aligned with the needs of our students and community.”

The strategic planning process, guided by design principles from the Board of Education, places an emphasis on community involvement and data-driven decision-making. The process will be divided into four stages, with a goal of adopting a new strategic plan by December 2024.

The first phase – the design phase – began with the “Dr. Hunt’s UAventure” listening tour launched in the fall. Since then, Dr. Hunt has gathered feedback from nearly 1,400 students, staff members, parents/guardians and community members. That feedback – along with other key data points including feedback from the superintendent search process in 2022, the Listen Learn Lead community engagement sessions last spring and the equity audit conducted in the fall of 2023 – has helped inform the development of the priority areas for the future:

- Excellence and innovation
- Engaged learning
- Well-being and belonging
- Connection and communication

“Under each of these priority areas, we will have specific goals that will guide us and ensure that we continue to excel and innovate,” Dr. Hunt added.

The second phase of the process – the discovery phase – is already underway. During the discovery phase, inquiry teams made up of students, staff members, parents/guardians and community experts will delve into the specific priority areas and identify recommendations for each priority area.

This spring, Upper Arlington Schools will host three opportunities for stakeholders to learn more about the strategic planning process.

- Coffee & Conversation with Dr. Hunt - March 13 from 6-7 pm and March 14 from 10-11 am at Kingsdale Market District, 3061 Kingsdale Center
- Listen Learn Lead Community Engagement Session on Strategic Planning - May 9 from 6-7:30 pm in the Upper Arlington High School first floor north learning commons, 1625 Zollinger Road.

“This strategic planning process reflects our dedication to continuous improvement, adaptability, and stakeholder engagement,” Dr. Hunt shared. “Together, we are charting a course for a bright future for Upper Arlington Schools.”

To learn more about the strategic planning process, please visit www.uaschools.org/strategicplan.aspx.
As Upper Arlington Schools launches a strategic planning process to envision our priorities and goals for the next three to five years, I feel excitement for our future and a great appreciation for the foundation that has been built here under our current strategic plan.

To better understand the progress that has been made under our current 2019-2024 Strategic Plan, you can look to our annual Quality Profile. Every year, we publish this annual accountability report to give our community a clear and transparent look at what’s happening in our schools.

This spring, all Upper Arlington households will receive a copy of the 2024 Quality Profile in their mailboxes, and you will also be able to find an electronic version on our website at www.uaschools.org/QualityProfile.aspx.

Our 2019-2024 Strategic Plan identifies a focused set of priorities that support our position as a national leader in education and continue our focus on challenging and supporting every student, every step of the way.

Whole learning is our core business - academics. We are building on the district’s long-running philosophy of educating the whole child by providing rigorous academic content and real-world learning experiences that will give our students an even stronger foundation to serve, lead and succeed in life.

Student and staff well-being is critical to the success of our students. We are building on our strengths to foster a safe and inclusive environment by focusing on two fundamental aspects of well-being: belonging and balance.

Continuous improvement is the foundation of the strategic plan. This is the idea of getting better at getting better – and, as you’ll see in the Quality Profile, it is threaded through everything we do in our schools.

In the 2024 Quality Profile, you can find updates on our work to implement a new state law involving literacy, the creation of new college and career pathways for students, our strategies for supporting a sense of belonging in our schools, and our ongoing commitment to engaging all stakeholders to inform the future of our district. You can also find updates on how we compare with other districts here in central Ohio, in the state and across the nation on the state report card, test scores and other data points, including finances.

We believe it is critically important to continue to provide our community with the Quality Profile to measure our progress toward these strategic priorities. I encourage you to spend some time with the Quality Profile, and if you have any suggestions for the report, please complete the online form available at www.uaschools.org/qualityprofile.aspx.

Robert Hunt, Ph.D., is the superintendent of Upper Arlington Schools. You can email him at superintendent@uaschools.org and follow him on X (formerly Twitter) at @Hunt_EdLeader.

Upper Arlington Schools invites you to be part of the 2024 hUmAn Connection Festival, a two-day event celebrating the diverse experiences and perspectives that make our community unique.

Started last year at Upper Arlington High School, the hUmAn Connection Festival celebrates culture, inclusion and understanding and supports new connections within and beyond our community.

Please join us on the evening of March 6 at Upper Arlington High School, 1625 Zollinger Road, for a community-wide event featuring:

- 6-7 pm: hUmAn Connection Festival exhibit gallery on Golden Bear Boulevard
- 7-8 pm: an interactive and inclusive performance by Columbus Jazz Arts Group in the performing arts center

The festivities will continue the following day for high school students.

The hUmAn Connection Festival is offered by Upper Arlington Schools with support from the Upper Arlington Community Relations Committee and Upper Arlington Education Foundation.
Using our funding wisely is a crucial part of our district’s commitment to being a good steward of taxpayer dollars for our community. Every year, we rely on an external, third-party review of our finances by the state auditor’s office as an important check-in point on this commitment. This process involves a team from the auditor’s offices spending a significant amount of time delving into our financial records and reviewing our practices. I am pleased to share that our district has again earned a clean audit opinion and the Auditor of State Award for the 2022-2023 fiscal year, recognizing our commitment to effective and accountable financial practices for our community. You can find the fiscal year 2023 audited financial report from the state on our website at www.uaschools.org/annualaudits.aspx.

The annual state audit is one way that our stakeholders can learn about the district’s use of taxpayer dollars. Our community can also get a closer look at our fiscal year 2023 financial information in the 2023-2024 Financial Update, which will soon be available on our website at www.uaschools.org/treasurer.aspx. This annual report serves as a companion piece to our Quality Profile, our annual accountability report, by providing a deeper dive into our district’s finances. It details the sources of our funding, how that money is used and other topics that may affect district finances in the future.

In addition, you can find several other financial reports on our Treasurer’s Office webpage — including the monthly financial reports presented at each regular meeting of the Board of Education and the five year forecast, an important check-in point and planning document for our district.

An additional resource that helps us plan for our future is our enrollment projection report, an independent report that looks at everything from real estate trends to birth data to project how many students will be enrolled in our schools during the next 10 years. This report helps us better anticipate the needs of our district in terms of staffing, space and resources.

The most recent enrollment report was completed by Cooperative Strategies and presented to the Board of Education in January. Overall, districtwide K-12 enrollment has increased over the past decade and is projected to continue to grow over the next 10 years — from 6,349 students in 2023-2024 to 6,726 students in 2033-2034. You can view the full report on our website at www.uaschools.org/enrollmentdata.aspx.

With this trend likely to continue over the next several years, the district will continue to closely monitor our enrollment growth to efficiently plan for additional students and the additional people, space and resources our students need to support them.

If you have additional questions about our district’s finances, you can contact me at treasurer@uaschools.org.

Wickliffe Woods Playground Update

After decades of love and use by the Upper Arlington community, Wickliffe Progressive Elementary School’s castle playground has reached the end of its useful lifespan, with maintenance becoming increasingly challenging and costly. So, in the same community spirit that drove the creation of the castle playground, a group of school and community volunteers launched the Wickliffe Woods Project a year ago with an ambitious charge – to design and fundraise for a new outdoor playspace for Wickliffe. The vision is to create an iconic, world-class inclusive playground rooted in elements of nature-based play, STEM and environmental learning for Wickliffe students and the larger Upper Arlington community.

This spring and summer, the new playground will begin taking shape. New swings and spinners will be installed, thanks to initial fundraising efforts by the Wickliffe Woods team, and following the end of the school year, the wooden castle structure will be decommissioned and removed. Prior to that, there will be a community celebration for the castle playground and its place in the history of Wickliffe and the Upper Arlington community. Please look for a community invitation with more details in the spring at www.uaschools.org and in the next issue of UAiNSIGHT.

This summer, a new play structure will be installed, thanks to funding from the Upper Arlington Schools, that will help bring the Wickliffe Woods vision closer to reality. This will include a traditional post and platform play structure, an accessible spinner, monkey bars and poured-in-place surfacing.

Just as the Wickliffe community came together to build the castle structure more than three decades ago, Wickliffe will continue that tradition with a community build process for the play structure that will be guided by Midstates Playground Equipment, the manufacturer’s representative.

With the investment from the district in a new play structure, the Wickliffe Woods Project will continue fundraising for the final phase – which will include Earthscape play structures and help bring the unique personality of the Wickliffe community to the playground.

If you are interested in learning more about the Wickliffe Woods project or in making a financial contribution, please visit www.wickliffeplayground.com or email wickliffewoods@gmail.com.

Jones Middle School is turning 100 years old this spring, and Upper Arlington Schools and the Upper Arlington Historical Society are collaborating on special events to celebrate this milestone for the district’s first permanent school building.

Designed by Ohio Stadium architect Howard Dwight Smith, the building now known as Jones Middle School opened on March 17, 1924, with six teachers and approximately 150 students from grades 1 to 6, according to newspaper archives (grades 7 to 12 would later be added following the building’s expansion in 1926). While the building wasn’t yet finished when it opened, the article reassured that “classes will be carried on without any interruption.”

The building later served as Upper Arlington’s high school and junior high school and eventually became known as Jones Middle School, after J.W. Jones, who had served as the building’s principal and the first full-time superintendent of the district.

“Jones is a unique building in the history of Upper Arlington, in that it has served nearly every grade level from elementary to high school,” shared Superintendent Robert Hunt, Ph.D. “It has gone through many updates and changes over the years but continues to be a symbol of our community’s commitment to providing our students with the best possible education.”

This spring, Jones Middle School and the Upper Arlington Historical Society will offer the community a glimpse into the history of Jones and its significance to students, families and the community.

During the month of March, the Upper Arlington Historical Society will offer a historical display at the Tremont Road branch of the Upper Arlington Public Library. Jones will also be gathering art and writing submissions from students to enhance the display.

Coinciding with the Upper Arlington Alumni Association’s UAHS Open House event on July 5 from 12:30 to 3 pm, Jones Middle School will host its own open house on the same day from 9 to 11 am. This will be an opportunity for alumni, as well as community members and current students and families, to walk through the building and view historical displays and student work to commemorate its 100th birthday.

This isn’t the only century milestone this year for Upper Arlington Schools. This spring, Upper Arlington will celebrate its 100th graduating class, and the 100th edition of the Norwester, Upper Arlington High School’s yearbook, will be released to students. Look for more about these milestones in upcoming issues of UAiNSIGHT.

If you have memories of Jones Middle School you would like to share, please visit www.uaschools.org/Jones100th.aspx.
The Upper Arlington Public Library has always stood for and valued transparency and open communication. Recently you may have read an article or otherwise heard about the efforts of some UAPL employees to organize a union with the Ohio Federation of Teachers.

The Library’s Board and Administration have always and will always be receptive to the needs of our incredible staff. We value and appreciate all they do. They are the lifeblood of our organization, and we could not offer all that we do without their expertise, hard work, and dedication.

The library leadership has dedicated significant time and resources over the past three years to meet continued needs expressed by staff to make UAPL a better place to work and grow. Below are a few improvements that have been implemented:

• Salary adjustments in 2023 to be competitive with other local libraries and employers. Library leadership spent many months researching industry data and working with a consultant on a comprehensive salary study. These efforts resulted in an average salary increase of 16%, which included a years-of-service salary range to ensure increases for long-time staff.

• New health insurance plan in 2021 of which the Library pays 82% of the premium. The plan also has better coverage and a substantial reduction in employees’ deductible and out-of-pocket costs.

• Two additional paid federal holidays (Martin Luther King Jr. Day and Juneteenth) for all staff.

• Better benefits for part-time staff, including more vacation and sick leave, and paid holidays

• Formation of an Internal Communications Committee composed of staff representing many levels and departments

• Formation of a Staff Appreciation Committee to perform activities related to engagement, welcoming new staff, and the annual Staff Development Day

• Focus groups and surveys to gather employees’ thoughts and questions about culture, communication and facility needs

• An enhanced staff intranet with easy access to important information from administration

• Office hours with the director available to any staff member

• Team building and department days to allow staff to focus on special issues or projects

All of these adjustments have been driven through the open communication and cooperative environment that exists between staff and administration.

To ensure that all of our staff members’ voices are heard regarding union organization, the Board has chosen to request an election through SERB. My hope and that of my fellow Board members is that UAPL staff at all levels can continue to work together in a collaborative environment where employees know they are appreciated and supported.

From the Library Board President

Peter Hahn

The Sustainability Fair Returns April 6

Get the full schedule of the day’s events at http://uapl.me/SF24.
I can finally breathe a sigh of relief, with major repair projects for our buildings on the way. The Tremont Road Branch is getting a new roof, and the HVAC systems at both Lane Road and Miller Park are being replaced. Safety and major repairs and maintenance are at the top of the Library’s list of priorities in 2024.

A NOTE FROM OUR DIRECTOR  Beth Hatch

We were excited to see the results of the 10-Year Master Facilities Plan conducted by HBM Architects. It details the major repairs and costs, and general ways to improve our spaces, accessibility, and the usability of the collection. We had a great response in the community engagement sessions and the online survey, and here is what we learned:

What is important to you and what you want us to continue:
- Maintain the inviting and warm feel of UAPL facilities.
- Continue to provide access to the collection.
- Continue to provide stellar children’s and family spaces with interactive play, collections, and programming.

What you think the Library needs:
- Increased access to power everywhere.
- Study and meeting rooms of all sizes.
- Enclosed spaces with different seating options.
- A small business resource center.
- Covered outdoor seating as long as it does not duplicate park functions.
- To ensure flexibility to adapt to community needs.

To keep up with the progress of the Master Facilities Plan, look for our new Facilities Update feature in each issue of Library Insight.

The New Yorkers: 31 Remarkable People, 400 Years, and the Untold Biography of the World’s Greatest City
By Sam Roberts
This work from the veteran New York journalist takes the reader through time, twists and turns of fate, and territory one never could imagine existed before today’s concrete and steel of New York City. The people, the places, the antics, the mayhem. Packed with characters, events, deals and drama, this book is rich with information and vocabulary to rival any college history class. Dense and descriptive, it’s a challenge to keep it all straight, so I didn’t. It was enough to read each of the 31 chapters, let my head unspin and jump into the next chapter. Fascinating.

The River We Remember: A Novel
By William Kent Krueger
When the body of universally despised landowner Jimmy Quinn is found floating in the river, Sheriff Brody Dern must shift through lies, rumors, indifference, and prejudice to bring the community back together. A School for Good Mothers
By Jessamine Chan
Frida Liu is your typical middle-class woman until one bad day changed everything. Her husband recently left her for a younger woman, and she is struggling with being a newly single mother of an infant. One lapse of judgment has led Frida to be sentenced to a one-year program requiring no contact with her baby and to be retrained in motherhood. Failing could mean never seeing her child again. This dystopian novel showcases the situation many mothers find themselves in with little support, including constant judgment for being too much or not enough. Frida will do all that’s asked of her, but is any mother good enough?

Holly
By Stephen King
Holly Gibney, a favorite (yet awkward) character from Bill Hodges trilogy and several short stories, is back as the main character in this new book by Stephen King. Holly is hesitant to take this “missing daughter” case amid the COVID pandemic but she opts to help. The deviant married couple that are behind the string of missing people is classic Stephen King. A well told story as Holly methodically pieces the clues together.

The Fountains of Silence
By Ruta Sepetys
Welcome to Spain during the 1950s under the rule of dictator General Francisco Franco. This is a story about love, silence, and secrets. It’s told from the perspective of a young American photographer and the beautiful albeit mysterious Spanish maid assigned to his family at a luxury hotel in Madrid. The story delves into the countless ways people suffered under Franco’s dictatorship, and how American and foreign tourists were blinded to the reality of the human rights violations for the sake of their comfort and luxury.

She Started It
By Sian Gilbert

The girls can’t turn down the trip of a lifetime, with white sand beaches on a luxury remote private island, and they’re curious to see what their former classmate has made of herself.
