The City’s Parks & Recreation Department has wasted no time transitioning from completion of the Parks & Recreation Comprehensive Plan process to implementation. Two priority studies are on the horizon—a full assessment of the existing conditions, programming and needs for the Northam Park Tennis Courts, and undertaking a feasibility study for multi-generational indoor recreation space. But there’s so much more to report, as we set the stage for a second century of quality recreation facilities, programs, parks and amenities. Please read on for some highlights.

Westover Park Playground
The new Westover Park Playground has recently been completed. Designed to accommodate children ages two-12 years, the new playground now includes many inclusive features designed for children with differing abilities. The playground encompasses a similar footprint as before but the swings are relocated further south to accommodate an increase in options, which includes an ADA swing, belt swing and a “mommy & me” swing. In addition to the main climbing and slide structure, a merry go round has also been included, in response to requests from park patrons. Finishing off the playground are a poured-in-place safety surface, three picnic tables (one is ADA compliant), a stroller parking pad, bike rack and two benches.

We do hope you enjoy the playground improvements at Westover this summer. Watch for details of a celebration event in the near future.

Devon Pool Phase II
Ribbon Cutting
10 am, Saturday, May 25
The second phase of improvements at Devon Pool are almost complete, in time for the start of the 2019 outdoor swim season. This phase of work is comprised of a new pool house that includes showers, lockers, baby changing stations, a family changing room, improved facilities for guest services, expanded storage, and a concession stand.

Please join us at 10 am on the morning of Saturday, May 25 as we open Devon Pool for the season and celebrate the improved facilities with a ribbon cutting ceremony and celebration. Watch for details as the date approaches.

Devon Pool Phase III
The dust hasn’t even settled on Phase II work, and yet plans for a third and final phase are in the works. This next project includes replacing two aging mechanical buildings with one larger structure, repairs to concrete decking and a new toddler pool/feature.

An initial review of the existing toddler pool highlighted that modifications of any substance would trigger the need to bring the pool into compliance with ADA standards and Ohio Swimming Pool Codes. With this knowledge, the planning team began to think about options to enhance Devon Pool and complement the range of facilities available at the City’s three outdoor pools.

In April, the community was invited to weigh in on two options:
1. To renovate the existing toddler pool, by installing a pool liner, replacing the curbing around the...
pool, and installing an accessible ramp with handrails;
2. To install a sprayground with play features.

From feedback received at two public meetings and an online survey (which garnered 585 responses), a sprayground option was favored by two thirds of participants. From the comments received, several themes emerged:
• Make sure a feature is retained that is tailored to toddlers
• Provide options for introducing toddlers to water depth
• A desire for an area that can accommodate toddler swim lessons

Staff presented an overview of the planning work conducted to date on the Phase III project, as well as the results of the community engagement thus far to City Council in April. It was agreed that further exploration of the options for the toddler pool/feature was appropriate. As a result, our consultant team at Hardlines Design Company is developing more detailed design options that will be shared with the community in May and early June. Thereafter, the goal is to present the findings and recommendations from this next phase of outreach with the Parks & Recreation Advisory Board and City Council in June. If the proposal is accepted, the construction bidding process will begin immediately with the hopes of starting construction in the fall.

Please watch for updates and opportunities for your involvement and feedback on this exciting project.

Jack Nicklaus Park Tribute Ribbon Cutting Ceremony 12:30 pm, Thursday, May 30
Many in our community will recall that Upper Arlington served as the proud host community for the 2016 U.S. Senior Open golf championship at the Scioto Country Club. We also took advantage of this historic event to recognize and celebrate one of Upper Arlington’s favorite sons—internationally renowned golfer Jack Nicklaus, by renaming Parkway Park as “Jack Nicklaus Park” at a special ceremony timed to coincide with the tournament.

This event marked the launch of an initiative by a group of residents, family members and high school friends of Mr. Nicklaus to install a privately-funded tribute to Jack at the park.

This effort has been successful, with installation of the tribute nearing completion. And to celebrate the community is invited to a ribbon cutting ceremony on Thursday, May 30.

Please watch for additional details as the date approaches.

Addressing Athletic Field Issues
In April, Staff shared a progress report with City Council relative to the steps being taken to address the community’s limited access to sports fields in our parks and the maintenance challenges that result from overuse. The department is taking a balanced approach to addressing its challenges, through steps that include:
• Working with the Field Sports Work Group and Schools representatives to develop scheduling solutions—to allow for improvements to existing facilities and for the long term. This includes the use of field scheduling software.
• Developing agreements with Columbus Recreation & Parks to secure access to two neighboring field sports facilities—Northcrest Park which is between Henderson and Bethel roads, and Anheuser-Busch Sports Park at Bethel Road and 315.
• Expanding the City’s turf management program to better maintain field condition throughout the year.
• Prioritizing significant renovations for facilities at Reed Road Park in 2020, followed by Northam Park ball diamond improvements at a future date.

If you have questions about any of these projects, please contact the Parks & Recreation Department at 614-583-5300.

Northam Park Tennis Events
Tennis is one of the first sports to make an appearance each spring, and plans are afoot to get the season at the Northam Park Tennis Courts off to a fun start. An early season of reduced hours began April 27, and the regular season kicks-off Saturday, May 11.

Per a recommendation of the Parks & Recreation Comprehensive Plan, later this year the Parks & Recreation Department will undertake a facility design process in advance of planned tennis court and service building renovations, and will be seeking resident input at various stages in the process. So watch for details of opportunities to participate.

Veterans Plaza Update

For approximately three years, a group of residents—including several Veterans of the armed services—have been collaborating on a project to enhance the Veterans Plaza at Mallway Park. Their goal is to create an inviting and attractive place for reflection and appreciation of the men and women who have served their country. Upon completion, the enhanced Veterans Plaza will be re-dedicated and gifted to the community.

Proposed designs for the plaza—developed by landscape architecture firm POD design—were shared with the community early in 2018 and a second time in the fall. The final concept would enhance the existing memorials at the west end of Mallway Park, with a connecting archway, a flame of liberty and decorative fencing. Behind the pillars and set into the park, a small plaza would overlook an open greenspace. Walkways on either side of the pillars would feature displays that share stories of Upper Arlington’s veterans.

With Mallway Park in line for some additional renovations, the City’s Parks & Recreation Department had the designs from POD include conceptual plans for park improvements that would complement the Veterans Plaza.

The committee has secured a State grant of $200,000 to support the project, a significant step toward its fundraising goals. To build upon this success, the committee is embarking on a capital campaign in order to raise an additional $300,000. A Veterans Plaza Fund has been established with the Upper Arlington Community Foundation, making it easy for residents to donate online. Just visit www.uacommunityfoundation.com/donate/ and be sure to indicate that your donation is for the Veterans Plaza Project.

Visit www.upperarlingtonoh.gov to learn more about this project and how to get involved.

Tobacco Free Parks
The City of Upper Arlington has been a regional leader in the past in its efforts to protect the health and welfare of residents relative to tobacco use. This has included the prohibition of smoking inside businesses and public facilities in 2004 (two years prior to a statewide ban), and raising the age for tobacco product purchases to 21 years in 2015.

The City’s Board of Health recently recommended to City Council that all nicotine products should be prohibited in the City’s public parks. This includes cigarettes, cigars, e-cigarettes and vaping devices. Factors leading to this recommendation include a desire to address an alarming rise in vaping, second-hand smoke concerns and other health issues.

Council was expected to vote on this legislation at its April 22 City Council Meeting, to go into effect at the end of May.

Details of Ordinance 27-2019 can be found at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

Short Term Rentals Prohibited to Protect Neighborhood Integrity
As various trends brought about by smartphone apps sweep across the nation, the impacts—both positive and negative—aren’t always apparent at the onset. In the case of private home and apartment short-term rentals—which are on the rise in the Central Ohio region—while previously determined to be a prohibited use, the City enacted a one-year prohibition within residential districts in the spring of 2018, further clarifying the prohibited use and to allow the City to better understand the trends and to monitor their impacts in other communities.

Some of the challenges associated with short-term rentals arise from their transient nature—increased traffic and parking issues, noise, and safety concerns for surrounding families.

Trends have shown an increase in the purchase of properties by some investors, specifically for short-term rental use. With minimal oversight, the negative impacts on the neighbors can increase, including inadequate care of the property.

Additionally, without proper oversight by the City, various safety issues—emergency egress, the presence of appropriate lighting, signage and smoke detectors—could be overlooked, thereby creating an unsafe environment for paying guests.

The “sunset” provision on the temporary ban was set to expire in May of 2019. As a result, City Council recently revisited this issue and accepted public comments through the hearing process.

Council ultimately approved Ordinance 22-2019, making the prohibition permanent to protect the residential nature of our neighborhoods. It applies to any rental of less than 30 days in duration. It also prohibits bed and breakfast establishments, apartment hotels, and hotels and motels within the community’s residential districts.

Citizen Financial Review Task Force Update
The Citizen Financial Review Task Force has been meeting since early April in order to fulfill its charge by City Council—namely, to perform a high-level review of the City’s current financial status and overall outlook, to determine if existing service levels are in alignment with community needs, and to assess the status of capital investments, and to determine if there are any specific program areas that might benefit from a fuller review.

Meetings are generally being held every Thursday morning, beginning at 8:15 am, at the Municipal Services Center, 3600 Tremont Road, and are expected to run through late May/early June. Meeting agendas, minutes and supporting documentation can all be found on a section of our website that is dedicated to the task force—at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

The task force is expected to report back to Council on its findings in June.
2019 Wall of Honor Ceremony

3 pm, Sunday, May 19
3600 Tremont Road

Please join representatives of the City and UA Historical Society as Lawrence E. Hughes and Blaine T Sickles are inducted onto the Wall of Honor on Sunday, May 19.

Lawrence E. Hughes served in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1969-1982. He was lead sponsor of a bill that created State Route 315, which contributed to the development of Northwest Franklin County and Upper Arlington along Lane Avenue. Mr. Hughes was also the lead sponsor of a bill that created the handicapped placard in Ohio, which was later used as model legislation by other states as they recognized the importance of providing accommodations for individuals with disabilities.

Blaine T Sickles served as a member of City Council from 1966-1985, including as Vice President from 1974-1985. Mr. Sickles’ service extended to participation on the Development Committee for Greater Columbus, the Columbus Downtown Council, the Greater Columbus Convention & Visitors Bureau Board, and the Santa Maria Committee. His most beloved and notable leadership commitment was serving on the Columbus Zoo and Aquarium Board for 44 years.

Full event details can be found at www.uahistory.org.

AED Unit at Northwest Kiwanis Park

Automatic External Defibrillators—or AEDs—are becoming increasingly prevalent in our public spaces, and the reason is simple: when used quickly and in combination with CPR, they save lives!

Thanks to a generous, $4,000 donation from the Kiwanis Club of Northwest Columbus, and 2018 UA High School graduate Kevin McClanahan who raised over $700 for his capstone project, Northwest Kiwanis Park is now home to the first AED in one of our parks. We also believe we are one of the first communities in the region to install an AED in a park, and the Parks & Recreation Department is hopeful that more will follow in the months ahead.

The AED unit has been installed on the wall of the shelter at the north end of the park. Since it will be exposed to the elements, this unit is in a waterproof, climate controlled cabinet, equipped with a fan for ventilation in the summer and a heater for the winter months. As a security measure, it also comes equipped with a camera to take photographs of anyone who opens the cabinet.

The AED unit is connected to 911. When the case is opened and the AED is removed, the unit will emit a loud alarm, and immediately call 911 at the same time. Once a 911 dispatcher answers, the alarm will mute to allow the user to share specifics about the medical emergency in progress, so that emergency responders can be quickly dispatched to the correct location.

This project provides a timely reminder for citizens trained in giving CPR of the benefits of becoming registered on the PulsePoint mobile app. Should someone in a public place experience a cardiac emergency, the app alerts registered citizens who are in the vicinity simultaneously with the dispatch of paramedics. The app also directs these citizen rescuers to the exact location of the closest, publicly accessible AED.

For additional information on PulsePoint, visit the Fire Division section of the City’s website, at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

Delivery Preferences for “The Bag”

In May of 2017, the City enacted an ordinance that prohibits the delivery of written materials by throwing items from vehicles, making it a form of littering. In April 2018, Council passed an ordinance that further tightened the requirements for the delivery of unsolicited written materials to homes. Codified Ordinance 537.06 specifies where on a property unsolicited written materials such as advertising packets must be delivered: On a porch near the door; securely attached to the front door; through a mail slot in the door, if applicable; between the exterior front door and interior front door; where permitted, in a distribution box located on or adjacent to the premises; securely attached to a hook or within some other receptacle used for the delivery of non-U.S. Mail packages or materials; personally to the owner, occupant and/or lessee of the premises.

The ordinance places liability on the businesses behind the distribution. In addition, the resident maintains the right to restrict entry to the premises if he or she so desires. Businesses responsible for delivery persons who are not following the City’s rules can also be held liable for littering.

Representatives from the Columbus Dispatch—which produces and distributes a weekly advertising packet known as “The Bag”—have responded to Upper Arlington’s law by working to be more responsive to residents when an issue arises. They have recently added an online reporting form that enables residents to manage their preferences for The Bag. You can check if you have a delivery complaint and provide specific information relative to your issue and indicate if you no longer want to receive delivery of The Bag.

If you are experiencing an issue with delivery, when you complete and submit this form please allow a few weeks so that your request can be logged into their mapping/delivery system and then passed on to the team responsible for coordinating and making deliveries in your neighborhood. If the problem persists, please call 740-549-4314 to speak with a Dispatch representative.

Look for the “Unsolicited Materials” page under “Resources,” at upperarlingtonoh.gov for additional information.

Cogo Ribbon Cutting

10 am, Thursday, May 14, La Chatelaine on Lane Avenue

The CoGo Bike Share team has scheduled a ribbon cutting celebration to help raise awareness about the five stations in our community.

Representatives from the City will be on hand to participate in the ribbon cutting ceremony, to be followed by a group ride led by Yay Bikes! that will give guests a chance to try the bikes. Attendees can enjoy refreshments from LaChatelaine, and will receive CoGo Swag and free day passes so that they can take a spin on one of the CoGo bikes at a later date.

We hope to see you there!
With a clear focus on “Building Our Future” as well as honoring and learning more from the past, Upper Arlington Schools celebrated the start of construction on the new Upper Arlington High School with a community groundbreaking ceremony on April 7.

Hundreds of students, families and community members gathered for the ceremony signaling the community’s first momentous step toward implementing the first phase of the facilities master plan.

“We are here today to celebrate a historic day in the life of our school district, in the life of our community and in the life of Upper Arlington High School,” Superintendent Paul Imhoff, Ed.D., said. “As we celebrate the future, one of the things we know here in Upper Arlington is we have an amazing past, and I want you to know as we open the new Upper Arlington High School it is going to be a lot about the future but in that building we are also going to honor our past.”

The ceremony was a true Golden Bear celebration – with performances by the Upper Arlington High School Marching Band, Choir and Symphony Strings, and plenty of opportunities after the ceremony for community members to have their own “groundbreaking” photo op.

Student ambassadors representing all nine Upper Arlington schools – from Burbank Early Childhood School through the high school – kicked off the ceremonial groundbreakings by plunging the first shovels into the dirt on the stage of the auditorium, where the ceremony was moved due to inclement weather. Following the students, the Upper Arlington Board of Education and many other community stakeholders and volunteers stepped forward to break ground.

“The way our community has come together to support the current and future young people is without precedent,” Imhoff said. “We are going to prepare facilities that are going to be the place where generations of young people grow and where they experience that vision of uniquely accomplished students who are indeed prepared to serve, lead and succeed.”

High School Principal Andrew Theado added: “This is an amazing, amazing time to be a Golden Bear. I’m so inspired to work in a community that values education the way ours does.”

Elementary Groundbreakings

The ceremony for the new high school is the first of the groundbreaking ceremonies this spring signaling the start of construction on the first phase of the community-developed master plan. Community groundbreaking ceremonies will be held on Sunday, May 19 for the first four elementary school projects:

- Greensview, at 12:30 pm
- Wickliffe, at 1:45 pm
- Tremont, at 3 pm
- Barrington, at 4:15 pm

Windermere’s groundbreaking ceremony will follow in the spring of 2020. Ahead of the elementary groundbreaking ceremonies, construction...
If you have been past Upper Arlington High School in the past month or two, you know that construction is well underway on the largest project in the first phase of our facilities master plan.

It’s exciting to think about the new opportunities the building will present for our students, teachers and community members. The new classroom spaces will be filled with natural light and will open up to work spaces designed to foster collaboration, creativity and innovation. Golden Bear Boulevard will be the heart of the building, connecting the arts, academics and athletics areas of the building with gallery spaces and gathering spaces to suit groups of all sizes.

As we begin “Building Our Future” for Upper Arlington students of today and generations to come, we are also preparing to honor our past. We all stand on the shoulders of those who came before us, and none of what makes Upper Arlington such a special place would be true without the contributions of past generations.

One man who made amazing contributions to the growth and development of the Upper Arlington/Columbus area in the 1800s, before there even was an Upper Arlington, was Pleasant Litchford, a freed slave and master blacksmith. Many residents today might be surprised to learn that there was once a cemetery on the high school site that served as a final resting place for the family and friends of Mr. Litchford. The cemetery was located on an area of the high school site where the current building and a parking lot stand now, and when the current high school was developed in the 1950s, about 30 bodies were exhumed and moved to other cemeteries.

Once the new high school is complete in 2021, we will prepare to demolish the existing building. This will provide the perfect opportunity for us to partner with historians and archaeologists to further examine the site. We will work to identify if any graves still remain and if any artifacts from this important time in our history can be found. It will be a tremendous learning opportunity for our students, staff and entire community, and it will offer us an opportunity to create a memorial recognizing the importance of the site and the contributions made by Mr. Litchford and his contemporaries.

One of the hallmarks of an Upper Arlington education is providing our students with an opportunity to learn that they are part of something bigger than themselves. We accomplish that through commitments to service learning and celebrating our past. In the next few years, those commitments will come together through our research of the cemetery site and those who were buried there.

This is a great time for our students and our community to lead by example by honoring and celebrating our past while also looking toward the exciting future ahead for generations of Upper Arlington students to come.
Cum Laude

Membership in the Cum Laude Society is the highest academic recognition a high school student can achieve on a national level. The society was established in 1906 to recognize academic excellence, justice and honor. It was modeled after Phi Beta Kappa. The Upper Arlington chapter of the Cum Laude Society is supported by the Dr. Charles Wade Moulton Fund of the Upper Arlington Education Foundation. Congratulations to our 2019 scholars!

UAHS Junior Named a COSI STEM Star

High School junior Audrey Strickling has been named a COSI STEM Star and will represent Upper Arlington as a grand marshal for COSI’s first annual Science Festival in May.

“Audrey has been tireless in her pursuit of new programs and activities for students related to the areas of science, technology, engineering and math,” said Chief Academic Officer Keith Pomeroy. “She has been an excellent partner with our amazing staff, and she is a fantastic example for her peers and younger students in UA.”

During the 2017-2018 school year, Audrey launched a FIRST Robotics team. Now in its second year, the team has grown to 63 participants and was returning to the world championships in late April. She has also spearheaded the launch of the FIRST Lego League at all five elementary schools this spring and hopes to work in partnership with the media specialists at those schools to grow the program in the future.

The COSI Science Festival is a four-day event, May 1-4, that features community STEM events and culminates in the Big Science Celebration surrounding COSI on May 4. The celebration will feature STEM-related activities and demonstrations, including a “makey-makey” activity with representatives from the City of Upper Arlington and the Upper Arlington Public Library.

The Library will offer two community events in conjunction with the science festival — “Be an Electrical Engineer: LED Flashlights” for children on Thursday, May 2 and “Make Your Own Seed-bombs” for adults on Wednesday, May 1. For more, visit www.ualibrary.org.

Jones Media Specialist Honored with WOSU Award

Jones Middle School media specialist Michelle Lombardi is the recipient of the 2019 WOSU Outstanding Teacher Award. She was recognized at the WOSU Innovation Mixer on April 9 and will be featured on-air on WOSU Public Radio and at www.wosu.org. Through Lombardi’s leadership and the financial support of the Upper Arlington Education Foundation, the Jones Learning Center has been transformed into an “iSpace” — with technology ranging from green screens and Padcasters to sound mixers and guitar microphones to Sphero robots and virtual-reality headsets. With these tools, students at Jones are taking virtual field trips around the world and through the solar system, applying their math and science skills through coding, and recording and sharing their learning.

“Ms. Lombardi is a superstar and an asset to everyone in our building.” Jones Middle School Principal Jason Fine said. “She gives our students amazing opportunities to enhance their learning and explore their interests, and she collaborates with and supports our staff to explore new ways to integrate technology into the curriculum.”

Community meeting on next strategic plan set for May 6

The staff and community members on the Well-being Inquiry Team and the Well-being Advisory Team invite all residents to learn more about their work on the district’s next strategic plan during a community meeting from 6-8 pm on Monday, May 6 in the cafeteria at Upper Arlington High School, 1650 Ridgeview Road.

The well-being teams are investigating the ideas of belonging and balance and how they interact with the overall success and safety of students and staff. Their work will inform the district’s next strategic plan, which will begin in the 2019-2020 school year.

Nine Staff Members Surprised with Golden Apple Awards

Seven teachers, a school nurse and a bus driver for Upper Arlington Schools have been selected as 2019 Golden Apple Award winners by the Upper Arlington Civic Association.

Congratulations to the 2019 Golden Apple Award winners:
- Blair Cerny, first grade teacher, Greensview Elementary School
- Amalee Dahman, second grade teacher, Tremont Elementary School
- Molly Hinkle, 3 / 4 teacher in the Informal Program at Barrington Elementary School
UA Idea Day Sparks Inspiration for Students

Upper Arlington High School students and teachers explored what sparks their inspiration and how they can use their skills to forge change and innovate at the second-annual UA Idea Day.

This one-day symposium is created by students, teachers and partners with the Upper Arlington Education Foundation. For its second year, the event brought together more than 80 sessions including drone racing, day-long “hackathons” led by technology professionals from Nationwide, mindfulness workshops, community conversations surrounding culture and diversity, and behind-the-scenes Statehouse experiences with lawmakers.

This innovative day of learning and exploration has drawn national attention from other students, educators and school leaders who are seeking to replicate it.

Congratulations to …

- High School junior Brooke Fidler and senior Joshua Mudrick, whose entries to the 49th Ohio Governor’s Youth Art Exhibition were selected among the top 25 statewide to receive the Governor’s Award of Excellence. Sophomore Sophia Shen and seniors Asher Franz and Leela Waters also had artwork selected among the top 275 entries for the exhibition, and an entry from junior Ellen Sneed was selected for display at the State Department of Education. In addition, 11 UAHS students were recognized for exceptional work at the regional level.
- Mia Doron, an eighth-grade student at Hastings Middle School, on being selected runner-up in a Scholastic national writing contest. Her short letter is written from the perspective of an undercover agent trying to bring in an SS officer when she discovers a horrible secret about her own identity.

Treasurer’s Notes

Andrew L. Geistfeld

This is an exciting time as we begin to see signs of construction on the first phase of the community-developed master plan. As work begins, it’s important to note that all six projects remain on budget and on schedule.

Over the past few months, the projects have gone out to bid for final pricing. In May, the bids for all six projects in the first phase of the master plan will be finalized, and construction will be underway shortly thereafter on all sites except Windermere, where work will begin in the spring of 2020.

As a reminder, there is no mechanism to go over budget – the budget is the budget.

Our district’s growing enrollment also continues to be a factor in our planning for the future. The new and renovated schools in the first phase of the master plan have all been designed to provide additional space for our growing enrollment. In the event that growth exceeds projections, each project has been designed to have a logical place for a classroom addition, if needed.

The enrollment projections as of October 2018 indicate districtwide growth of approximately 1,250 students, or 20 percent, in the next 10 years. We will continue to monitor enrollment growth by updating enrollment projections annually.

For a deeper look at enrollment growth and district finances, I encourage you to look over our 2018-2019 Financial Update. Providing clear and transparent communication about the state of the district’s finances is one of our major commitments to the community, and we are pleased to provide residents with this report, which is meant to offer a clear and concise look at our district’s finances and other topics that might affect our financial future. You can find the full 2018-2019 Financial Update on our website at www.uaschools.org/treasurer.

If you have any questions about our district’s finances, please feel free to contact me at treasurer@uaschools.org.

Building Our Future: the New Upper Arlington High School

It was a great day to be a Golden Bear as hundreds of students, families, alumni and community members gathered on Sunday, April 7 for a historic moment for the Upper Arlington community – the ceremonial groundbreaking for the new Upper Arlington High School. Although rain forced the ceremony indoors, spirits were high as the marching band, choir and symphony strings kicked off the event and student ambassadors from all nine of Upper Arlington’s schools stepped up to be the first to break ground for the new high school. After the ceremony, any and all community members were able to come forward to break ground and take photos.

Ghosting
By Edith Pattou
This is a powerful story of a group of teens out one night when a dare by one of them takes a sinister twist that will change all of their lives. It is written in prose using all of their voices to share their perspectives. It is based in a Midwestern town, and I felt the writing captured the essence of what it is like to be a teenager today, with so many emotions creating reasons why teens do or don’t do things suggested by others. This is a quick and easy read, and one that made me reflect quite a bit.

— Kate Albers, Miller Park

Homegoing
By Yaa Gyasi
This work of historical fiction traces the ancestral and lasting impact of the slave trade on people of African descent. Told in alternating points of view, Gyasi starts out with two half-sisters in the 1700s who never actually knew each other. Esi was sold into slavery, and Effia was married off by her family to a European slave trader. Each new chapter gives a glimpse into the life of one of their descendants from the next generation, leading up until today. This intricately woven tale has been described as gritty and detailed, and it is. It’s also moving and eye-opening. Readers who don’t share a similar ancestral past can begin to grasp how oppression is systemic and more ingrained than what they may think. Readers who do share a similar ancestral past will realize that they are not the only ones who feel deeply impacted and shaped by something they never directly experienced.

— Raina Bradford-Jennings, Youth Services

The Hunger
By Alma Katsu
In an interesting combination of the supernatural and historical, The Hunger offers an intriguing possibility of what could have happened to the infamous Donner party in 1846. We all know the story of the Donner family and how they, in order to survive, had to cannibalize some of their dead party members. However, the real question might be—was there something else that drove them to that final bit of madness? Maybe it was more than bad choices and bad luck. Perhaps there were other forces in play. No one can be absolutely positive about what happened in those final weeks and months on that frozen, barren trail, but The Hunger definitely gives you something else to ponder.

— Melanie Stanley, Adult Services

The Prince and the Dressmaker
By Jen Wang
The King and Queen of Belgium want their teenage son to settle down with a nice princess and get serious about being the future king. But Prince Sebastian doesn’t have time for diplomacy or matchmaking. When the sun goes down, Sebastian sneaks away from his royal duties to become Lady Crystallia, talk of the Paris fashion scene. The only ones who know about his secret alter ego are his trusted butler Emile and his best friend Frances, the gifted young seamstress who designs Sebastian’s daring gowns. Frances longs to be a famous designer, but keeping the prince’s secret means she can never be recognized as the talent behind Lady Crystallia’s bold looks. As their friendship evolves and Sebastian’s betrothal grows imminent, Frances and Sebastian must both decide whether or not to hide important parts of themselves to keep the status quo. The Prince and the Dressmaker is a modern fairytale about love, identity, the price of secrets, and the power of acceptance that will resonate with readers of all ages.

— Lauren Kraus, Media Services

The Shadow of the Wind
By Carlos Ruiz Zafón
On young Daniel Sempere’s birthday, his bookseller father shares a secret and mystical place: the Cemetery of Forgotten Books. According to tradition, first-time initiates select one book from the collection to protect for life. Daniel’s choice spurs him to seek out the author’s other books and plunges him into a dark, intimate world of politics, vengeance, love, and loss. Set in Barcelona shortly after the Spanish Civil War, the story follows Daniel as he unravels the details of the mysterious author’s life and work. Filled with amateur detective work, bibliophilia, danger, romance, and shades of magical realism, it is the first in the Cemetery of Forgotten Books series.
